

Handy Handouts®

Free informational handouts for educators, parents, and students

No-Prep Therapy Activity: Road Trip Ride-and-Seek

by Sheila Merck

Road trips can provide a great opportunity to learn about the world around us. Visual games can be a fun way to work on a variety of skills while passing time in the car. Use this Road Trip Ride-and-Seek Game worksheet to address communication, social, or visual perceptual skills.

Number of Players

- 1 or more

Materials Needed

- Road Trip Ride-and-Seek Game worksheet (one copy for each player or team)
- Pencils or crayons
- Optional: laminate game board and use with dry erase markers

Object of the Game

Find objects or signs that match the road trip items pictured on the game board on the next page.

Directions

- Provide each player with a copy of the game found on the next page.
- Each player finds an object or sign that fits the road trip items pictured in the squares.
 - Example: A player looking for "a place to stay" could find a house or a hotel!
- Players color or cross off items as they find them.

Tips for Game Play

- For groups of players larger than two:
 - Divide into teams of two.
 - Determine if one player or all players will share the responsibility of crossing items off the game board when found.
- For non-readers, use the pictures featured with the concepts for examples.

For more FREE Handy Handouts®, go to www.handyhandouts.com

Road Trip Ride-and-Seek Game

How many things can you find?

a Stop sign	a traffic light	an Interstate sign	a police car	a Speed Limit sign

a Reserved Parking sign	a Railroad Crossing sign	a bus	a No U-Turn sign	a big truck

a place to stay	a Do Not Enter sign	a Road Construction sign	a place to eat	a Hospital sign

a Do Not Pass sign	a place to get gas	a Deer Crossing sign	a Highway sign	a bridge

an Arrow sign	a motorcycle	a Yield sign	a tow truck	a Crosswalk sign