Lids 'n Lizards™

Magnetic Photo Vocabulary Game!

Watch your students flip-over Lids 'n Lizards—Magnetic Photo Vocabulary Game! Place a magnet under each one of the lids and then hide the lizards under the lids. Students flip a lid, name the photo object on the magnet, and identify its category (animals, around the home, clothing, food, or transportation). The student that finds the most lizards is the winner.

Includes

- 50 magnets
- 20 lids

Additional Game Ideas

What Doesn't Belong?- Using four lids, place three magnets from the same category and one magnet from a different category under the lids. Have the student lift each lid and name the object. Then, have the student name the magnet that doesn't belong. Expand this activity by having the student tell why the object doesn't belong. Increase difficulty by using more lids and magnets.

Category Collection- Place four magnets from each category under the lids. Assign each student a category. Have the students flip over a lid and identify the object and its category. Students collect the lids that are in their categories. The first student to find all four magnets from his/her category is the winner.

Lost Lizard (Magnets on Top of Lid)- Give each student five lids and place five magnets on top. Ask the students to hide a lizard under one of their lids. Students take turns asking if another student's lizard is hidden under a specific lid by asking simple yes/no questions that do not name the object. For example, "Is the lizard under something red?" Student with the most lizards wins.

Guess what? You can use these Lids 'n Lizards tin lids with many of our Super Duper® MagneTalk® Games.
